OFF TO A GREAT START: POSITIVE, PRACTICAL STRATEGIES THAT REALLY WORK WITH YOUNG CHILDREN

Date: Tuesday, March 6, 2012
Time: 8:45am – 3:30pm
Location: Lower Level Banquet Hall Country Kitchen Catering – 1717 Mayor Magrath Dr.
Cost: $60 includes lunch and refreshments

This presentation will focus on practical strategies for teaching and encouraging good behaviour among young children. Recognizing that campuses are inclusionary and diverse, Dr. McConnell Fad will provide a wide range of strategies designed to meet the needs of administrators and teachers. Examples and activities during the session are designed to bridge the gap between what research suggests and what the real world requires.

Specific topics include:

- Meaningful communication
- Social instruction in everyday situations
- Proactive approaches to teaching good behaviour
- Designing and using logical, age appropriate consequences.

Kathleen McConnell Fad is an author and consultant from Austin, Texas. Kathy's professional experience has spanned over 30 years as a general education teacher, special education teacher, university professor, independent consultant and author. Kathy focuses on designing practical, common sense strategies that are research-based. Her favorite quote is one that applies to all of us as we work to improve our programs and our intervention strategies: "You don't have to be bad to get better."

Payments received after workshop date will be assessed a $10 late fee
