The Critical Thinking Consortium (TC<sup>2</sup>) is an internationally renowned, non-profit association of education professionals who are committed to promoting critical thinking from primary to post-secondary education through professional development, publications and research. Since its inception in 1993, TC<sup>2</sup> has worked with thousands of educators in North America, Europe and Asia. The TC<sup>2</sup> model of critical thinking embeds critical thinking into regional school curriculums to make it more accessible to teachers and their students in a broad range of educational contexts.

The Critical Thinking Consortium is made up of an extensive group of partners from school districts, universities, independent schools, professional organizations and consortiums, government agencies, and commercial enterprises.

As a partner, your Alberta Regional PD Consortia are pleased to offer you the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of Spotlight online sessions such as: Student Engagement through Student Action, Critical Thinking Strategies and Assessing the Intellectual Tools.
