About the Session:

Principals will engage in a community of practice that honours and involves schools beginning a Collaborative Response framework in their schools. For each session, school leadership teams will have a chance to connect and network with other participating schools, learn about strategies for implementation, access a variety of resources and samples, and then be provided extended time for planning next steps in their own school.

The goals of this community of practice are to:

- Establish an understanding of Collaborative Response as it relates to leading schools and creating structures and processes to respond to the needs of students.
- Network with other schools and develop a community of practice that can extend beyond the scope of this learning opportunity.
- Collectively develop and share resources to support Collaborative Response Models in a variety of school contexts, that honour staff and student diversity.

This learning opportunity is being subsidized through funding from Alberta Education.
